FASTEST LAPS DODGY DIFFUSERS- 49.277

22 drivers for round 2 of the Enduroseries 2009 on a dry warm evening.

A quiet qualifying with drivers reacquainting themselves with the RX7 Sport and the returning teams from 2008 trying them out for the first time welcome back. The only team who were off the pace for the qualifying were last month's winners KP Nuts but they decided to stick with it and not change - would this be to their cost!

Nip & Tuck take pole with a time of 49.650, Dodgy Gits 2nd and GPL 3rd all in the 49s. Steptoe & Son 4th, Dodgy Diffusers 5th, The McUshers 6th, Primo Racing 7th, Team 2009 8th, S & M Racing 9th and KP Nuts 10th. Langborne Racing 11th, Little & Large 12th, Lift Away 13th, Team Christie 14th and Lock & Stock 15th in the 50s. Grand Pre 16th, The Woodys 17th, Blues Brothers 18th, C 'n' N 19th, Cobra Racing 20th, The Stalkers 21st and Still Game 22nd.

Ready, steady Go! All round the Conways and the first Hairpin but the Woodys who gain a couple of places ended up being the only spinner at Hairpin two as the pack bunched putting them to the back.

Winners and Losers, Nip & Tuck pulled away into the distance, Team 2009 moved up to 6th and S & M Racing gained four places to 4th with the help of stand-in driver Chris Ringer as Stuart was recovering after an operation, we wish you well. Steptoe & Son down to 8th and Primo Racing battling losing out down to 12th.

Lap 3 and Little and Large come into the as the their set had moved and they need it tighten dropping them from 12th to 22nd!

For the first 16 laps Nip & Tuck, Dodgy Gits and GPL were the only teams constantly in the 49s. A good battle between Langborne Racing and KP Nuts trading places with Steptoe & Son in the mix as well.

At lap 12 Primo Racing and Lift Away was battling for position when Primo left it a little late on the brakes giving Lift Away a tap and gaining an advantage, but experienced as these drivers are Luke realised his mistake and waved them back through.

The main battles of this round were at the front of the pack GPL and Dodgy Gits were bumper to bumper exchanging positions lap after lap for 2nd and 3rd, the same with The McUshers and Dodgy Diffusers for 5th and 6th.

At the halfway point before drivers changes, Nip & Tuck still held the lead, S & M Racing 2nd, Langborne Racing 3rd, Dodgy Diffusers 4th, KP Nuts 5th, Team 2009 6th, GPL 7th, Team Christie 8th, Steptoe & Son 9th, The McUshers 10th, Dodgy Gits 11th after receiving a black flag!, C 'n' N 12th, Lift Away 13th, Lock & Stock 14th, Primo Racing 15th, Still Game 16th, Grand Pre 17th, The Woodys 18th, Blues Brothers 19th, Little & Large 20th, Cobra Racing 21st and The Stalkers 22nd.

Nip & Tuck having pulled away the pack have plenty of time in hand and take the driver change to the last 1 minute, with a quick change coming out of the pits still in first place. Langborne Racing now 2nd, S & M
